GEORGE BECKLEY IS BADLY BURNED

Last Saturday evening while the power and light of the Nevada-California Power company were out for a short time, George Beckley, leasee of the Kendall block, went into the basement where is installed the motor that runs the oil furnace which furnishes heat to the building and which has an automatic shut-off. But in this case the automatic had failed to work.
On entering the motor room Mr. Beckley noticed that considerable gas was in evidence and took precautions by lighting a piece of paper and throwing it into the room. No explosion occurred and he then lighted a whole newspaper and threw it in. A blast followed and a flare-back that shot through the door at which Beckley was standing burned him about the head. He is now at the Mine Operators' hospital. It is believed that his eyesight was not permanently impaired.

BLOOM NURSES BROKEN WRIST AFTER ACCIDENT

H. T. Bloom, employee of the Louisiana Mining company, is around with his arm in a sling as the result of an accident Sunday night. Bloom was coming in from Tybo with a company truck, "Shorty" Kutzkau driving, when the carburetor developed symptoms that necessitated investigation. Bloom started adjusting the mechanism, when the truck's front wheel encountered a chuck hole and the resultant jar flung Bloom off the machine, breaking his wrist.

PROBE OF CAMPS DEMAND OF GARD

FORMER CONGRESSMAN GARDNER AT WHEELER.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Representative Gardner today introduced a resolution directing the military committee to investigate camp conditions as the result of the death by pneumonia at Camp Wheeler of Major Gardner, former congressman.
Another resolution proposed a congressional investigation of the "slandering charges" against the character of American troops abroad, alleged to have been circulated by the Anti-Saloon league.
Amendments to the food law making compulsory the observance of meatless and wheatless days were introduced in both houses.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING.

Jays That Come In Reaching the Peak and Getting Back to Camp.
A great deal has been written by mountaineers about the joys of climbing, says Walter Prichard Eaton in Harper's Magazine. The joys of climbing are often a good deal like those of heavy dumbbell exercises. In Glacier park you want to sing the joys of coming back to camp in the afternoon and loading on a bed of balsam boughs, with your tent flap open wide to the view of lupines and violets in the meadow and distant snow capped peaks beyond. You want to sing the joys of fragrant food and steaming tea, of twilight slowly gathering as though so fair a day were reluctant to depart.
To ascend a peak, to see the tumbled world at its widest, to sit again in camp tired and warmed with food, to bear with one ear the camp cook telling bear stories, with the other the birdlike calls of the ground squirrels, to smell the resinous wood smoke and the balsams, to catch now and then the tinkle of little ice water brooks from the snowfields, to watch the sunset blush on Heaven's peak and the stars come slowly out above the battlements of the divide—well, that is, I fear, to spoil you for any other life.
The little ice water brooks sing a siren song in the uplands starred with violets, and woe to him whose ears have heard! He can never be quite happy again east of the Great Divide.

STOCKMEN PASS WAR RESOLUTION

(By Associated Press.)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 15.—The American National Livestock association and the livestock producers of the United States represented by it are patriotically back of the government and its military forces to the end that the great world war may be won for liberty and justice.
This, in brief, is the message sent from the twenty-first annual convention of the National Livestock association, in session here, to General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces now in France. The telegram reads:
"National convention American National Livestock association sends hearty greetings to you and our boys in France. We stand back of you in winning the war."
Patriotism was the predominant chord in the proceedings of the convention and was the keynote of every address delivered before the opening session. President I. T. Pryor sounded the tocsin of patriotic cooperation between the livestock men and the government in his annual address when he declared that the livestock men as producers of that essential food product, meat, asks nothing of the government but a fair profit upon their product and that they be not expected to produce it at a loss.

The president voiced the unanimous sentiment of the convention when he declared that the livestock men are ready and willing to do all in their power to meet the demand of the government for increased production and only ask that the government in return give them the consideration necessary to enable and encourage them in accomplishing this important end.

In line with the attitude of the association to employ every means possible toward the conservation of meat supply the executive committee of the national organization, through President Pryor, telegraphed to Secretary David E. Houston of the department of agriculture, asking him to prevent the reopening of the Juarez packing plant at Juarez, Mexico. The telegram to Mr. Houston says:
"We have reliable information that the Juarez packing plant is about to resume operation. We believe the prime object of this move is to furnish a market for confiscated cattle that it would not be safe to import on hoof because the owner could identify the animal, which is impossible if dressed as beef. The opening of the plant means the confiscation of Americans' cattle located in Mexico. Hope you can find a way to stop it."

SECOND MISSION TO U. S. FROM MEXICO

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Resumption of negotiations to adjust differences between the United States and Mexico over exports and imports, particularly of foodstuffs, is dependent on the Carranza government. It is reported Carranza has been urged to send another mission to the United States, to continue negotiations abandoned when Luis Cabrera left the country in a pique to attend the neutrality congress at Buenos Aires.

"FREIGHT MOVING" WEEK 14TH TO 21ST

Special to the Bonanza.
CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 15.—W. G. McAdoo, director general of the railroads, has designated the week of January 14 to 21, inclusive, as "Freight Moving Week," and asks that the whole nation unite in a supreme effort to clear up the congestion in freight traffic now existing in many sections of the country. The movement of food, fuel and other vital necessities is being seriously hampered by this congestion, and unless freight is promptly removed by consignees from freight cars, it will be impossible to relieve the present situation. Railroad cars cannot be used for warehouse purposes without grave injury to the American people. It is the imperative duty of the hour for every citizen to do his utmost to move freight from cars and from railroad stations immediately upon its arrival.

The director general's letter, in part, reads:
"I wish to appeal to the people of the United States to observe the week beginning January 14 and ending January 21 as 'Freight Moving Week,' and I earnestly request the governors of the various states, the public utilities commissioners, the mayors of cities and towns, the state councils of national defense, the federal and state food and fuel administrators, the chambers of commerce, and other business organizations, businessmen and shippers generally, trucking companies and all railroad employees to organize locally and to make a supreme effort during this week to unload freight cars, to remove freight from railroad stations and to clear the decks for a more efficient operation of the railroads of the country."
"An earnest and united pull all along the line will achieve wonders in this direction. We can help ourselves and relieve an immense amount of suffering if we attack the problem vigorously and in the true spirit of co-operation."

It is our earnest request that Nevada again show her patriotism by co-operating to the fullest possible extent with Mr. McAdoo's appeal.
E. H. WALKER,
Federal Fuel Administrator for Nevada.

MINOR DEVELOPMENTS ONLY IN WEEK REVIEW

WINTRY WEATHER INTERFERES WITH OPERATIONS IN ITALY AND FLANDERS.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Only minor developments at the battle fronts are recorded in the weekly review of military operations made public last night by the war department. Wintry weather is interfering with operations in Italy, France and Flanders, and in Russia the military situation is overshadowed by peace negotiations, from which the review says, no conclusions can safely be drawn.

Of the American forces in France the department announces that their preparation for battle is being steadily pursued and that General Pershing reports their health and fighting spirit extremely good.
General improvement in health and equipment conditions in training camps at home is reported and the department says in spite of abnormal cold the camps have been adequately heated and soldiers have had a sufficient supply of blankets.

The marine corps was fully prepared when war was declared, the general testified, and its expansion from 11,000 men to the present enrollment of 33,000 was anticipated by early orders, many of which were placed even before the diplomatic relations with Germany were severed. He said the day after war was declared he investigated the working of the Lewis machine gun and as the tests were satisfactory he immediately ordered sufficient of them to equip the marines.

The general declared he had no "dollar-a-year" men in the purchasing department of the corps and that all contracts were awarded under the competitive system. There have been no complaints of shortages, he testified, and the men are well clothed. Health conditions are even better than in peace time, he declared.

At the conclusion of the evidence the committee generally expressed satisfaction with conditions as revealed by the witness.

AT THE BUTLER.

Wallace Reid, in "The Squaw Man's Son," the sequel to "The Squaw Man," that tremendously successful story and play written by Edwin Milton Royle. Wallace Reid is Lord Ellington, the man grown from Hal, the son of Nat-urich, the squaw. As in all of his work, Mr. Reid thoroughly plays the part of the half-Englishman, half-red man reared in affluence in England, but with the blood of the Indian impelling him to seek the outdoors of his native West. Anita King is Wah-na-gi, the Carlisle graduate, with whom Hal, in spite of the fact he has a wife in England, falls in love. Miss King has one of the big roles of the story and does excellent work. Dorothy Davenport is Lady Ellington, the morphine-consuming wife of the leading character. There are many other good character portrayals. There are stiff personal encounters, in which the athletic Reid figures to advantage. Of tense situations there are a goodly number. With this feature will be seen "Ford Educational Weekly."

Here tomorrow, Rex Beach's greatest picture, "The Auction Block." Every character in the "Auction Block" is thinly-disguised prototype of a real person and fit the part just as the author wrote them to be. It is the life drama of a million girls in America's big cities and small towns. It is some picture.

Friday, big seven-reel program.
Saturday, "Draft 358."
